

An invitation

 Babraham
Research
Campus

Dear Neighbour,

As you may know, we have been exploring the future of Babraham Research Campus for some time. We are now preparing to launch our next round of public consultation on a roadmap that outlines how the Campus can be shaped for the future. We would love to hear from you and learn more about what matters most to you as a member of our local community.

We would like to invite you to attend a consultation event on the Campus later this month. You will be able to learn more about our current thinking and to share your views on how the Campus facilities can be shaped for the future. You will be able to meet the project team, see our early proposals and provide us with feedback. We will also be able to update you on our plans to open up Campus facilities to local residents.

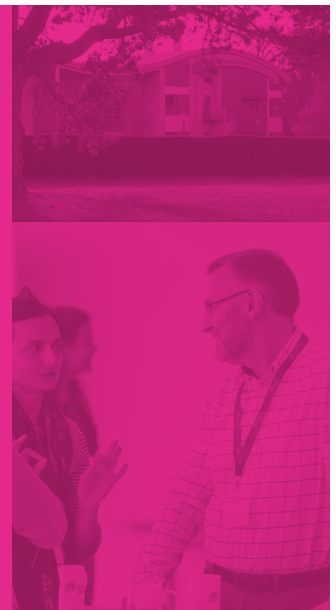

We do hope you are able to come along to the public exhibition – please turn over to find out more about where and when it is taking place.

Shaping the future of Babraham Research Campus

There will be an online interactive map to gather your thoughts on the Campus and wider 430-acre estate.

We would like to know more about:

- Areas of the Campus and wider estate that you value, and why.
- Areas of the Campus and wider estate that could be improved.
- Areas that you think would benefit from specific improvement, for example:
 - Trees & planting.
 - Improved or new footpaths or crossings.
 - Reduced vehicle movements.
 - Cycle parking.
 - Benches and seating.
 - Signage (information and wayfinding).
 - Access.
- Other improvements you would like to see.

Building our future together

We are developing a transformative roadmap to strengthen our proven reputation and impact as the place where cutting-edge start-up companies begin their innovation journey within the UK's life sciences ecosystem.

This roadmap will prioritise purposeful growth across the next 15 to 20 years; it will drive the development of groundbreaking treatments to improve and protect lifelong health, while addressing local needs and priorities, within an inclusive campus setting.
